

Weekly Newsletter 17th March 2023

Dear parents and carers,

Today, Horn Park celebrated Red Nose Day with the theme 'Go Red.' The charity fund and invest in amazing organisations across the UK and around the world. A huge thank you to anyone who was able to donate. We will be able to share the amount raised in school in next week's newsletter.

Earlier in the week, it was fantastic to welcome parents and carers into school for parents' evening. These meetings always provide a great chance to share the successes children are having in school and how proud we are of the values they continue to show. If you were unable to make your appointment this week, please speak to your child's class teacher.

Cherries class had a fantastic visit to the Prince Philip Maritime Collection Centre on Tuesday: they learnt how to look after different materials and the different ways they could be damaged. More pictures of the trip can be found on our school twitter page, as can learning from different subjects. For example, Beeches' science experiment can be found by searching through the hashtag #HornParkScience. This can be replicated for any subject, including #HornParkMaths and #HornParkHistory.

A reminder that on Friday 31st March at 2.15pm, we are holding an online safety parent workshop. This will provide an opportunity to watch a section of a Year 6 PSHE lesson linked to staying safe online before a short presentation on some of the risks children face online.

Finally, we would like to congratulate Esther Smith, who this week became our newest parent governor. The local governing committee play a huge role in supporting the school and we look forward to working with Esther in the future. Our next governor monitoring morning will be on Tuesday 21st March so you may see governors in the playground in the morning. They will then be spending time seeing children's learning and discussing school and trust priorities.

Have a lovely weekend,

Zoe Crosland and Jack Green

BOOK RECOMMENDATION

Maples Class have been reading 'The Tunnel' by Anthony Browne. The enjoyed exploring the story and investigating the fantastic illustrations. It is a story of love and friendship in family. It is a story about a brother and sister who were complete opposites and constantly fought and argued. One day they discovered the tunnel. The boy goes through it at once, dismissing his sister's fears. When he doesn't return his sister has to pluck up the courage to go through the tunnel too. She finds her brother in a mysterious forest...
