

Weekly Newsletter: 22nd March 2024

Dear parents and carers,

With only one week left of the spring term, we still have lots to look forward to such as our spring music concerts, our Rocksteady concert, Reception's school trip to Mudchute Farm and Poplars' trip to Southwark Cathedral.

This week saw the year 6 boys' football team represent the school in a tournament organised by Charlton. As always, our children demonstrated the school values and made us proud in the way they played as a team. We look forward to finding out how the girls' football team gets on at their tournaments next Thursday.

Thank you to all the parents and carers who have been able to attend our workshops. If you are unable to attend any of these, information talked about is always added to our website. The list of workshops for the summer term will be circulated next week.

We have been advised of free activities and lunches that will be on offer across the Greenwich borough during the Easter holidays for children who are eligible for benefit related free school meals. You can find more information about these schemes on the Royal Borough of Greenwich and Young Greenwich and Free meals during the holidays websites.

Thank you to everyone for following our health and safety guidelines of not being on school site before 8:40am.

Have a lovely weekend,

Ms Zoe Crosland and Mr Jack Green

Book Recommendation

In Richmond Class, we are reading 'The Goldfish Boy' by Lisa Thompson. It is about a boy called Matthew who looks out over his neighbourhood and starts to become a detective when something happens on his cul-de-sac. We are enjoying using it to help us with our own writing, and we like the different ways of communicating, such as emails and diary entries, that we have seen in this book.

Sapphire: "I really enjoyed the mystery and how Matthew was a really good detective!"
