

Weekly Newsletter: 19th April 2024

Dear parents and carers,

We hope that everyone had a lovely break.

It has been fantastic seeing the children back in school this week excited about the new term and learning opportunities. In year 4, children enjoyed becoming news reporters for the afternoon and in nursery, they have been using actions to remember their favourite stories.

Every half term, class teachers write newsletters which are uploaded to the website. These can be found here. The newsletters reference the learning taking place in class over the next few weeks and the texts children will read. In today's assembly, we talked about our love of reading as a school, including our favourite authors.

Next week, on Thursday 25th at 9am, our half termly Anti-Bullying Steering Group meeting is being held. Everyone is welcome at this meeting: the discussions and outcomes help us continue to provide a fantastic environment for all children.

Our annual careers fair is on Tuesday 21st May. This event aims to raise children's aspirations, increasing their awareness of the range of career paths available. If you can offer support on the day by sharing information about your own career, we would be incredibly grateful. Perhaps you know somebody else who could do this? You can register your interest via this form.

Have a lovely weekend,

Ms Zoe Crosland and Mr Jack Green

Attendance Matters

This week's attendance: 93.9%

Best Year Group: Year 1 - 97.9%

Book Recommendation

Nursery are enjoying 'Jolly Olly Octopus' this term. It is part of our topic 'Under the Sea'. It has wonderful pictures and a happy ending! All the sea creatures in the story have different ways to move. This helps us learn new words like 'scuttle' & 'flip flap'. We gave each creature their own actions. It is also super for counting too.
